RUSSIA DENIES WALKING OUT ON UNO

RUSSO-GERMAN SECRET TREATY AILED AT TRIAL

Secretary's Testimony Taken Despite Soviet Objection
at War Court.

By The Associated Press
BERNBERG, March 28.— Johann von Ribbentrop's former personal secretary testified before the international military tribunal today that a secret Russo-German treaty dividing eastern Europe between Germany and Russia was presented to the tribunal.

The witness, Margaret Blank, the poet was in a sealed envelope bearing the inscription
"German-Russian Secret Agreement" and that she had seen the original copy. She said she was charged with keeping its existence secret.

Blank was permitted to speak only after the tribunal had considered the matter in private sessions and over the strenuous objections of the Soviet prosecutor, Gen. R. A. Rudenko.

The witness also told the court Ribbentrop began peace overtures as early as the winter of 1943 and with Adolf Hitler's permission had sent a Professor Berger to Switzerland for the purpose of finding a basis for peace negotiations through Bern, Stockholm, Madrid, Lisbon and the Vatican.

The woman witness barely had time to finish her testimony when Gen. Rudenko had her arrested by Ribbentrop and Foreign Minister F. M. Molotov in Moscow when the Soviet prosecutor got on his feet and objected.

He declared the matter was irrelevant and that the witness was not competent to testify concerning the alleged treaty, the proposing one of the most delicate questions to be presented to the tribunal.

The tribunal immediately resented to discuss the matter in private.

Alfred Seidl, counsel for Hess, said with a declaration that his two copies of the treaty were made when it was signed in Moscow in August, 1939, and that von Ribbentrop took one to Berlin.

He said the Russians had seized most of the German foreign offices in Berlin and added:
"I am sure that the Soviet delegation will be ordered to submit the original of that document."

Calls Fire Department Ties To Mail Letter,

Firemen from Central station doubled as postmen this morning when a man, whose name could not be learned, attempted to mail a letter in the alarm clock at State and East Center streets.

The man opened the box at 8:30 a. m. and failed to find a place to deposit his letter.
He called the hook which sets off the alarm, evidently thinking it would open an inner door.

Persons nearby who witnessed the episode said when the alarm rang and the man refused to leave the wrong governmental department, he fled.

Miss Sally Recalled by Marionites As Former Student in Ohio Wesleyan

"Miss Sally," known to thousands of GIs in the European theater as the Nazi propagandist who broadcast to them during the war, has been identified by several of her Marion schoolmates and Ohio Wesleyan university authorities as the Mildred Gillars who attended the school between 1919 and 1922.

Persons known to recognize Miss Gillars as the girl who used American soldiers from a German radio station was Miss Sally A. Kelly, a member of the Ohio Wesleyan faculty and of Ralph A. Kelly of the junior high school faculty. Kelly, teacher of drama, directed several plays in which Miss Gillars took part. Mr.
Kelly, at the time Miss Gillars was in Wesleyan, was a teacher at Delaware high school and retired today he had been seen by a university campus a number times.

Liked To Steal Show
L. C. Hunter, head of the speech department at the university declared the Gillars girl as the one who liked to "steal the show" in all her activities about campus.

Among Marion residents who knew the school girl, the times Mayor Harry L. Dowler. He recalled having known Miss Gillars, however.

Miss Mary Denner, assistant secretary at the university said she recognized the picture in newspapers as the girl who went to the school from Connecticut and failed to graduate because of a series of "conditional failures."

University authorities listed her as "Miss Sally."

Three Columbus women who said they were classmates of Miss Gillars said she wore "extreme but beautiful clothes." She was reported to be popular among the men students.

Miss Gillars was arrested in Berlin by American military government authorities and department of justice records have told her she is to be brought to the United States and charged with treason.

UAW CANDIDATES AT BATTLE SCENE. During a demonstration that stopped the UAW convention for more than half an hour yesterday, the two presidential candidates, R. J. Thomas, (left) and Walter P. Reuther, had a laugh about it. Reuther was elected by a narrow margin. (Associated Press Wirephoto)

By The Associated Press
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 28.—Walter Reuther, newly-elected president of the CIO United Auto Workers, launched his big union toward new spheres of influence today.

Reuther defeated R. J. Thomas, president for seven years, for the leadership of 125 votes by the slim margin of 125 votes in a turbulent four-hour roll-call at the union convention, marked by fist-fighting and confusion. The official count was 4,445 to 4,320.

Another political fight bobbed up as Thomas accepted friends' urgings and decided to seek one of the two vice presidencies in today's elections.

A big cheer went up from the floor when the defeated president accepted nomination for a race with Richard T. Leonard and Melvin Bishop, Detroit regional directors.

Chief interest, however, was centered on Reuther's plans for the UAW-CIO's future.

CITY ACQUIRES TITLE TO NEW AIRPORT TRACT

Deed Transfer and Final Payment Made; Engineering Work To Be Pressed.

Marion today is in possession of a 644-acre tract of land which eventually will become the site of the new municipal airport.

Transfer of the land by deed from the federal government to the city was consummated yesterday afternoon when city officials handed to a government representative a check for $87,000 to complete payment for the land.

A $500 check deposited by the city when its bid was entered completed the total payment of $87,500.

Yesterday afternoon a group of city and government officials and representatives of the Chamber of Commerce aviation committee gathered at the site to look over the city's new property. In the group were Mayor Harry L.
Dowler, Safety-Security Director
Ed O. Unsworth, fully, in charge of disposition of federal surplus property at the Scioto Ordnance Plant, and the following representatives of the Chamber of Commerce: J. B. Bray, chairman of the aviation committee; Robert E. White, president; Robert T. Mason, vice president; and Louis E. Michel, secretary.

D. D. Secrist, who represents the army engineers' office of Columbus, was a spectator.

The Chamber of Commerce aviation committee was active in carrying through plans which led to the eventual purchase of the property.

The tract lies in the southeast corner of the Scioto Ordnance Plant property. It is bounded on the south by the Erie and New York Central railroad lines and on the west by the Pole Lane road. The old Williamsport road, which is to be closed, bisects the tract east and west a short distance north of the center. It is approximately a mile square.

Easy access will be provided to the new port by way of Pole Lane road from route 30-S or by the Fairmount street extension.

Before the land was purchased by the city the tract was inspected and approved by representatives of the Civil Aeronautics Authority and the Ohio department of aviation.

Considerable engineering work already has been done on the tract by the city engineer's office. Considerable help was received in this work when the army engineers turned over to the city complete topographical maps of the tract. The maps show all elevations in detail and will be of great aid in laying out runways.

Now that the purchase has been consummated and the city has title to the land, engineering work is to be stepped up to prepare plans for submission to the CAA, officials said.

The tract is considered an ideal location for a municipal port since the site is level and is surrounded by level land with no buildings or other elevations to obstruct planes landing or taking off. Engineers say that not a great amount of grading will be required in laying out runways.

Funds for purchase of the tract came from a $400,000 bond issue voted last November. The remainder will be used for construction of runways, hangars and other essential buildings.

Present plans call for construction of a class 3 port, capable of accommodating two-motored passenger planes. Number of airlines now have applications before the CAA to give Marion air service.

U. S. Acts To Avert Lewis' Mine Shutdown

WASHINGTON, March 28.—
The government moved into the soft coal dispute today in an effort to head off a nationwide shutdown in the mines Sunday night.

Assistant Secretary of Labor
John W. Gibson arranged to talk things over with mine operators after they had spent another day in fruitless negotiations with John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers.

Charles O'Neill, spokesman for the operators, said the producers agreed to continue working considerable time before the coal strike would be interrupted.

A labor department official said it could be anticipated that government activities in the coal dispute would be interrupted.

INTERNATIONAL HAMLET STALKS OFF THE UNO STAGE. With as dramatic an exit as any rity Council, packed up and left the council meeting room at Hunter college, Bronx, N. Y., as he fulfilled his promise to walk out of the session should the delegate defeat his proposal to post-

Poll To Determine Need Here for Reopening Trailer Camp

A poll will be conducted to determine as nearly as possible
how many veterans or families of servicemen would be interested in obtaining living quarters in the proposed reopening of the Lan-coln park trailer camp.

Plans for the poll were announced today by the Chamber of Commerce. It will be conducted by Mrs. Eliza Young, who is in charge of the veterans' information center in The Star building.
The information center is sponsored in part by the Chamber of Commerce.

Louis E. Michel, Chamber of Commerce secretary, said it was hoped the poll would give some indication of the demand for the reopening of the camp before the actual work of installing trailer units is started.

50 Units Allotted Here
On application of the city the federal public housing authority has allotted 50 trailer units for use in reopening the camp. The trailers now are at Oak Ridge, Tenn. They are available for lease by the government to a local sponsor.

Veterans or families of servicemen interested in obtaining living quarters in the camp are asked to contact Mrs. Young by calling at the information center or by telephoning her at 6125. Immediate action is requested.

Results of the poll likely will determine whether the camp is to be reopened. It was indicated today. It was made clear that Mrs. Young was not taking applications, but merely seeks to determine how many families would be interested in obtaining living quarters.

Furniture Provided
The trailers will be of varying size, suitable for couples or small families. They will be equipped with furniture and stoves.

Facilities for water, electricity, sewage and laundry remain from the camp's operation for a brief period during the early years of the war.

Mr. Michel said today that if sufficient demand for the trailers is shown in the next few days the trailers can be moved here within two weeks.

Ohio's List of Home Hunters Soars To Near Million Mark

By The Associated Press
There is no place like home—if you can find one.
But some 200,000 Ohio families, about one in every eight, are convinced that there is no place like home available.

The Veterans Housing Administration at Cleveland popped up with the 200,000 figure today, admitted its tabulations were not complete and that the condition was "serious." Based on the national average of "four to a family," the administration's guess was that almost a million of the Buckeye state's 6,907,812 residents were looking for a place to hang their hats.

The "Wanted to Rent" columns in the state's newspapers tell the tale much more graphically than the cold figures.

Paper Calls Mail
At Toledo, where only a few weeks ago someone offered a 1940 automobile in exchange for a telephone leading to rental of a six-room house, the Toledo Blade sought to halt such indecisions
by running this notice stop in its "Wanted to Rent" column.

"The Blade doesn't accept advertising space for such notices because it is a newspaper, not a real estate agency," the notice said. "We are not interested in such notices because they are not a part of our business."

TRUMAN SIGNS HOUSING BILL

Authorizes Fund for 100,000
Temporary Units But Big Program Hits Fight.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, March 28.—
President Truman signed a bill authorizing $250,000,000 in temporary housing today as the administration pressed its fight for a $500,000,000 subsidy program.

Senator Nead (D-N.Y.), who with Housing Administrator Wilson
Wyatt witnessed the President's signature, predicted speedy congressional approval of legislation contemplating 2,700,000 new homes by the end of 1947.

The measure signed today provides for an additional 100,000 temporary housing units for veterans and their families. This makes a total of 200,000 units now approved. Barracks and other wartime structures will be used.

Gets Real Fast
The bigger program, for permanent homes, was encountering rough going in the senate banking committee. Civilian Production Administrator John D. Small said the $500,000,000 subsidy was a "reasonable request" and would be used only as "a last resort" in spurring the production of building materials.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) however, said, "You are asking $500,000,- 000 and the authority to spend it on anything in the world. I can't be for that."

The subsidy plan was voted out of the administration's vast home-building program by the house.
The senate banking committee
now is being asked to reduce it.

be used to help in the production of building materials. He said

REDS CONTINUE TO WORK WITH OTHER POWERS

Dramatic Exit of Russian Over Iranian Issue Not Clean
Soviet Break.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, March 28.—Soviet Russia made it clear today that she would continue to take part in activities of the United Nations despite the dramatic withdrawal of Ambassador Andrei Gromyko yesterday from discussions of the Iranian question.

First concrete evidence of this came this morning when Prof.
Toris Stein, representing Russia, attended a meeting of the committee of experts which is working on rules of procedure for the security council.

At the same time a Soviet spokesman said that Russia would be represented at this afternoon's closed session of the council.

He said Russia definitely had not "walked out on the United Nations" when the ambassador left the council chamber yesterday.

Earlier a Soviet spokesman had indicated that Gromyko would attend the session—scheduled for 4
p. m.—with the understanding that the council would not go into the merits of the Iranian dispute but would confine its discussions to problems of procedure on the question.

No! Clean Break
The spokesman's statement reinforced the general understanding that the Soviet delegate had not divorced himself from the council but merely was standing pat on his determination not to participate in any discussion of the Iranian case prior to April 10
—a deadline he apparently fixed on instructions from Moscow.

The Iranian case was presented yesterday by Ambassador Hussein Ala in Iran "terrible" and a threat to world peace—after Gromyko had dramatically absented himself and hastened with his staff to the Soviet consulate general for consultation.

Soviet Proposals
Hussein Ala said Soviet officials proposed that:
(1) Soviet troops remain in some parts of Iran indefinitely.

(2) The Iranian government should recognize internal autonomy for Azerbaijan, with the provisional premier becoming the governor general, with the provincial ministers of foreign affairs and war abolished, with 30 per cent of the provincial revenue paid to the Iranian central government and all correspondence with the central government conducted in the Persian language.

(3) The Soviet government should abandon demands for an oil concession and an Iranian-Russian joint stock company should be set up with 51 per cent of the shares held by the Soviet Union and 49 per cent by Iran.

Hussein Ala said Premier Qavam rejected these demands and the Soviet officials withdrew them. Further efforts, the Iranian said, had not clarified the situation.

Hiroshima Regards Atomic Bombing As Honor, Doctor Says

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., March 23.—Surviving Japanese residents of Hiroshima felt somewhat honored that their city was selected as the first target for the atomic bomb, says Lt. Col. Lymer L. Friedell, executive officer of the Manhattan (atomic bomb) project medical research division.

They accepted it "as somewhat of an honor that their city had been selected for the history-making event," he told the ninth post-collegiate assembly of Ohio State university's college of medicine here yesterday.

Reviewing his inspection trip to Hiroshima, Friedell said the bomb hit the city "like a giant flyswatter," injuring between 100,000 and 150,000 of Hiroshima's 400,000 population.

The colonel, who entered the city Oct. 1, said radiation of the bomb caused between five and seven per cent of the estimated 100,000 fatalities. Collapse of buildings and fires caused most of the casualties, he added.

There was little radiation in the ground because the bomb had been exploded high enough to dissipate the radioactivity into the air, he said.

OPA SEEKS $1,125,000 FROM SINGER COMPANY

Suit Charges Violation of Price Regulations.

By The Associated Press
KANSAS CITY, March 23.—The Office of Price Administration filed suit in federal court today asking damages of approximately $1,125,000 from the Singer Sewing Machine Co. for alleged violations of maximum price regulations.

The complaint, filed by Dick Bennett, OPA district enforcement attorney, charged the company had violated price ceiling regulations and had forced purchasers of sewing machines to buy other commodities contrary to restrictions against tie-in sales. The petition said violations complained of had occurred throughout the United States.

Specifically, the complaint charged the company sold used sewing machines at new machine ceiling prices.

Bennett said the case originated from the complaint of a Kansas City housewife several months ago that a Singer outlet store here would not sell her a sewing machine unless she also bought a sewing cabinet.

DIRECTED VERDICT IS GIVEN IN WILL SUIT

Document Upheld as Last Will of C. S. Scribner.

A directed verdict in a suit contesting the will of the late Clyde S. Scribner was given by the jury in Marion county common pleas court today within less than an hour after the trial opened.

The verdict stated that the papers filed in probate court were the last will and testament of the deceased, and that attorneys had reached a settlement in the case.

Only witness called to the stand was Probate Judge Oscar Gast, who testified concerning the validity of the papers filed in his court as the last will and testament of the deceased.

Thirteen other witnesses had been summoned, but were not brought to the stand.

The court action was brought by Harry E. Phillips of Cleveland, an uncle of the deceased, against Zelma Weimer and others. According to the papers filed in probate court, Zelma Weimer was sole legatee to the estate.

Attorneys for the plaintiff were James C. Foster of Cleveland and Moloney and Kelly of Marion. Defense attorneys were Edwin Spohn, Frank Wiedemann and Wilhelm and Robinson, all of Marion.

Ohio Youth Makes Bomb Out of Self, Is Blown to Bits

Document Upheld as Last Will of C. S. Scribner.

By The Associated Press
STEUBENVILLE, O., March 23.—The dynamite death of Joseph Montgomery, 17-year-old high school student with an avid interest in chemistry, was viewed by police today as possibly accidental.

The youth's dismembered body was found last night in a vacant lot after he had been reported missing since Tuesday.

Police Chief Ross Cunningham reported Montgomery on Tuesday had entered a florist shop and told a high school acquaintance employed there that he had strapped to his body two sticks of dynamite which were wired to a battery. By pressing a button, he would explode the dynamite, the youth was quoted further.

Florist shop employees made no comment, believed the boy to be joking, the police chief said.

expressing the belief the youth may have pressed the button unintentionally.

Inquiry among other high school students indicated that the youth previously had the dynamite at school, but friends apparently were not alarmed.

One because of Montgomery's interest in chemistry, Cunningham added.

Greek National Election Is Greek to Hal Boyle

By HAL BOYLE
AP Newfeatures Writer
SALONIKA, March 28—The office chair of Dr. Hegman Wells in the American consulate building here is peculiarly well situated in a symbolic sort of way. For centuries men have spoken of "Olympian detachment" and that is a quality which Dr. Wells and the men under him are trying to observe in one of the most interesting experiments of world political history.

The chubby Hoosier educator—at 43 he has been president of the Indiana university for 10 years and is slowly outgrowing his title of "boy wonder" in higher learning circles—is a member of the American mission to observe the Greek election. He is one of five American district chiefs and along with British and French colleagues of equal rank is supervising the taking of election data in a 400-mile zone in northern Greece stretching from Albania to the Turkish border. Under them are 58 of the 240 Allied teams who are canvassing Greece and observing its preparation to elect a national government Sunday. Each team consists of three men—one American, British or French officer, one driver and one interpreter.

The observers travel by jeep or mule and one team had to walk 20 miles to reach one isolated snow-bound mountain community. They talk to voters and candidates of every party, hear their complaints and outline charges, but take no action beyond making an official report to the mission itself which will relay the information back to its respective government.

Dr. Wells says the Allied observers have been enthusiastically welcomed. "We have been wonderfully well received by all groups—right, left and center," he said. "In one locality our team was welcomed by both political factions. They showered the jeep with flowers and, when our men drove away, both sides lined the street and cheered." It is still Greek to me.

Sheriff's Deputies Seize Slot Machine

Sheriff's deputies last night picked up a slot machine in an establishment outside the city limits.

The machine was the first one found in the county for several months, Sheriff Roy Retterer said. He pointed out that for the last three months the county has been practically free from slot machines. The sheriff said he had received no letter from Gov. Frank J. Lausche requesting that his department conduct a campaign against gambling in the county. Gov. Lausche disclosed yesterday he had sent such letters to some counties in the state, but he did not mention which ones.

Some Scenes at Ohio Wesleyan's "Vetville"

Special to The Star
DELAWARE, March 28—Ohio Wesleyan university helped solve its student housing problem by opening a trailer city which, in turn, solved a real problem for the veteran who wanted to go to college but had a family to house. Vetville soon became a thriving little community of 50 families, and it's a real home, too, for these veterans, their wives, and kiddies. In the upper left photo, Mrs. James Marsh and nine-month-old Dickie, youngest baby in Vetville, enjoy a bit of sunshine in front of one of the two recreation and social centers while husband Jim, of Youngstown, Ohio, is in class. The attractive family group in the upper right photo are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mentzer and son Chuckie. Struthers, O., in their trailer living room. The Mentzers have an expandable type trailer roomy enough to house a family quite comfortably. The lower picture shows Mr. and Mrs. Chester Williams, Rye, N. Y., off to school. Chester, who not very long ago was in the Solomons and New Georgia on a PT boat crew, was the first veteran to move into Vetville.

First Lt. Robert Germany escaped injury and made his way down five miles of jungle-covered mountain to Lucban village, Tayabas province, to enlist aid of Philippine military police and 120 villagers.

DR. ALBERT E. AVEY ON LENTEN PROGRAM

Department Head at O.S.U.
Speaks at Epworth Church.

Dr. Albert E. Avey, head of the philosophy department of Ohio State University, spoke at a Lenten church night program of Epworth Methodist church Wednesday night. His subject was "Life." Stanley Moore led group singing. Dr. S. M. Ingmire, pastor, offered opening prayer, and Arthur Smith was toastmaster. Dinner was served by the W.S.C.S.

Opening his message with the observation that this season of the year and the significance of the Lenten special prominence to the thought of life and what it means, he stated that the fundamental impulse concerning life is to raise it to a higher level of being.

All are interested in the process of living, of self-preservation, of self-realization, he affirmed. "Each individual wants the best in himself brought out, each wants 'life more abundant'."

In a "measurement of life's aspects," he listed physical, body, psychological, emotions and feelings; and social. Virtues of each, he said, are health, sanity, and generosity, each in turn a little harder of accomplishment.

TRUMAN AIDES BUCK FARM PARITY MOVE

WASHINGTON, March 28—The administration, battling in the senate for a 65-cent minimum wage bill, switched warily to the defensive today against an amendment which President Truman's lieutenants have labeled inflationary.

The amendment, offered by Senator Russell (D-Ga.) and backed by some other farm state senators, would revise the parity formula by including the cost of agricultural labor.

Parity is a price calculated to give the farmer a return, in terms of things he buys, equal to that he received in a previous favorable period—in most cases 1909-14.

Senator Pepper (D-Fla.), who opposes the amendment but favors the 65-cent wage, quoted Price Administrator Paul Porter as saying that:

Adoption of Russell's proposal would cause a 20 per cent rise in farm prices, result in a 6 per cent increase in retail prices as a whole, and $4,000,000,000 a year to America's food budget, reopen wage controversies and threaten the entire stabilization program.

NEED FOR STATE POLICE IN W.E. STRIKE PROBED

Governor Sends Aide After Appeal from CIO.

PITTSBURGH, March 28—State Secretary of Labor and Industry William H. Chesnut today investigated the need of state policemen to maintain order at Westinghouse Electric Corp. plants, strikebound for 73 days.

Chesnut came here on instructions from the state capital after a delegation from the striking CIO United Electrical Workers union appealed to the governor to remove the police.

Workers described by the company as non-production employees entered the Westinghouse plant again without incident, while part of a force of 270 state policemen, some mounted, stood by with sheriff's deputies. Picket lines, limited by court order, made no effort to molest those entering.

The company said 1,000 employees entered the plant yesterday and that it expected to have 7,000 non-production workers at work in the East Pittsburgh plant by week's end. About 24,000 of the 75,000 Westinghouse employees affected nationally by the strike are employed in the huge East Pittsburgh works.

OFFICERS ARE INSTALLED BY PRESBYTERIAN GROUP

RAY BALLENGER

Eagles Celebrate 43rd Anniversary

Ray Ballenger of London, zone director of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, addressed the 43rd anniversary meeting of Buckeye Aerie of Eagles here Wednesday night. Twenty-six candidates were initiated and 21 applications received. The occasion also marked the first anniversary of the Eagles Memorial Foundation Fund.

Mr. Ballenger spoke in regard to the memorial fund, pointing out that it provided for education of children of Eagles who lost their lives in World War II. He also gave a brief history of the Eagles organization since its founding at Seattle, Wash., in 1898 and the initiation of the Marion Aerie on March 23, 1903.

Since its foundation the local organization has grown from 77 charter members to more than 2,000. Four of the charter members are still active. They are E. G. Ebling, Philip Ebert, S. M. Abel and Brooks Sloutter. The first meeting place was in the Red Men's hall on South Main street. Three years later the lodge moved to East Center street over the present Turner hardware store, where it remained until 1926 when the present location on West Center street was purchased.

The Aerie also voted support of pending bills in congress which would provide school lunches for children out of government funds. Copies of the resolution will be sent to President Truman, U. S. senators from Ohio, and Congressmen Frederick C. Smith of this district.

PROTESTANT LEADER BLASTS AT CATHOLICS

Boston, March 28—Methodist Bishop G. Bromley of Oxnham, president of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, has accused the Roman Catholic church in America of constituting a "grave threat both to political and religious freedom."

Speaking last night at a ecumenical service at Trinity church in which ministers of all Protestant denominations participated, Bishop Oxnham said that "pressures on newspapers, radio and other sources of public information, together with political activities" give Protestants grave concern.

A spokesman for the Roman Catholic church in Boston declined comment on the Protestant leader's assertions.

"When a Protestant speaks of the abuse of privilege by the hierarchy, he is immediately portrayed as attacking the church," Oxnham said.

"This is not true. He stands ready to protect the religious liberty of the Roman Catholic church but he stands likewise ready to resist those practices that are political and designed to secure secular privilege."

"All we ask is that the Roman Catholic church in matters of religious liberty do unto others as it would be done by," Bishop Oxnham declared.

TWO ARMY TRUCKS ACQUIRED BY CITY

Install New Bodies for Use in Garbage Collection.

Two one and one-half ton Chevrolet army trucks, recently purchased from the federal government by the city, were brought up from Columbus a few days ago and are now undergoing overhauling for use in the street repair and maintenance department, Safety-Service Director Ed O. Uncapher said today.

The trucks were used by the army in anti-aircraft defense. Mr. Uncapher said, and when the city acquired them carried a platform and a generating plant for searchlights. They have been repainted and steel dump bodies are now being installed by the Marion Metal Products Co. They will probably be ready for service next week, according to Mr. Uncapher.

Purchase of four trucks was authorized several weeks ago by council. These are the first to be acquired. Acquisition of two trucks for the garbage and rubbish department from the federal government was also authorized last Monday by council.

apartment by young veteran. Object matrimony.

A young couple at Sandusky also offered a box of nylons to anyone pointing out a three-room furnished apartment, and at Cincinnati a war veteran, due to be wed in June, is willing to start paying rent now on a small apartment to assure having it in time to carry the bride across the threshold.

Three little girls, all under four, offered this plea at Columbus: "Somewhere there must be a landlord who knows it isn't a crime for nice folks to have children, and who doesn't object to our renting his house. Dad will pay our rent promptly and make most minor repairs. We need a yard to play in."

Three adults, one a veteran, advertised at Alliance: "Yes, we like your town, but we'd like it much better if we had a place to live. We offer reward for information leading to rental of an unfurnished apartment."

"Dille."

At Cleveland, following a column-long list of pleas for houses and apartments, one original home-seeker confined his advertisement to "Me, too" and his telephone number.

And at Steubenville, proving the situation there is drastic, too, this one appeared:

"Young lady wants to share apartment with someone in north end of town."

BREWERS SEEK CUT IN MALT EXPORTS

NEW YORK, March 28—Brewery representatives struggling with trade problems arising from a growing beer shortage, urged today a drastic cut in exports of malt to foreign nations obtaining American grain for relief purposes.

Brewers were halted on Feb. 6 from using wheat or any product derived from wheat in the production of malt beverages, including beer. Effective March 1 use of all other grains was restricted to 70 per cent of the amount consumed in 1945. The use of rice, except screenings and brewer's rice, also is prohibited.

Gerald Walsh, secretary of the New York Brewers Board of Trade, said a large part of malt exports were going to Mexico and being returned in the form of beer.

Acting as spokesman for a committee of restaurant liquor-dealers and brewers, Walsh said, "If exports of malt were cut back to 1940 levels of 1,500,000 bushels the industry there would have to contend with only a 24 per cent cut in production instead of the present 39 per cent. Malt exports had increased to 5,470,000 bushels in 1945."

Walsh's plea for a cut in malt exports coincided with cable reports from Holland that export of beer from Dutch breweries to the United States would be resumed shortly but the same cables said Dutch home consumption of beer had been restricted accordingly.

WOMAN DIES IN CROSSING CRASH. Officials prepare to remove the body of Mrs. Elva F. Bancroft, 59, from the scene of the crossing accident near Westbrook, Me., that caused her death. Her car, struck by a two-engined 92-car freight train was completely demolished and dragged 800 feet down the track by the locomotive. She was the sole occupant of the car.

UNRRA POST URGED FOR MRS. ROOSEVELT

By The Associated Press
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 28—A move to place Eleanor Roosevelt at the head of an international organization for handling the problems of political exiles and war-scattered refugees gathered force today among delegates from 48 nations attending UNRRA's council meeting.

In circles close to the delegates, it was reported the question of offering the job to Mrs. Roosevelt already had gone beyond the point of speculation. These sources said it was likely Britain would nominate her.

If accepted, it would bring back into a working partnership the old team of Eleanor H. LaGuardia and Mrs. Roosevelt which directed the United States program of civilian defense during the first part of the war.

LaGuardia, former mayor of New York, has been nominated director general of UNRRA. Backed by the five big powers and with confirmation a certainty, he was expected to arrive here late today or tomorrow. Meanwhile his problems mounted.

Before him was a broad program of recommendations to member governments for rigorous food controls—including rationing, "where necessary"—together with a call for all-out production, aid to farmers and stringent conservation steps.

The council last night voted to give UNRRA's director general power to penalize countries whose occupying armies continue the practice of "living off the land" in violation of a new agreement within the organization.

LIQUOR BOARD GIVES RULING ON MINORS
 By The Associated Press
 COLUMBUS, O., March 25 — The state liquor board yesterday announced an unwelcome regulation requiring retail permit holders to keep minors from remaining "in or about" their places unless accompanied by an adult member of the family.
 The regulation, one of the first adopted in 1934 when the department of liquor control was set up, was replaced by a prohibition against anyone under 21 being employed for or permitted by any permit holder to participate in the handling, sale or delivery of malt liquor, wine or spirituous liquors.

 Persons under 18 further are prohibited from handling, selling or delivering beer. The original regulation specified only holders of D-3 permits for whisky by the glass and the board proposed several weeks ago to broaden this to include all permit holders.
 Mrs. Maude McQuate, board chairman, said Charles Schnur, assistant attorney general assigned to the department, had advised that the broad attempt to keep children under 18 from being about places selling liquor was unenforceable.
 She added, however, that no court test had ever been made.

The 50-year-old president of Proctor & Gamble Co. will be charged with planning and implementing the country's industrial mobilization for defense, thus assuming responsibility for maintaining American industry in a state of immediate readiness for reconstruction.

"Our purpose is to keep the country's industries up-to-the-minute on developments in the essential defense production fields to which they are adaptable, and to keep them prepared to shift to that production in minimum time," he explained in an interview. "We don't want to make the mistake made after the first world war and go back to peacetime production without thought for future security."

To prevent that repetition he said he hoped to keep at least one defense plant in each category of essential supply operative on a limited production, experimental and research basis, "as a kind of nucleus for total mobilization."

For example, one tank manufacturing plant, one shell loading plant, and so on.

Deupree said his plans also called for stock-piling against potential shortages on raw materials such as tin and rubber which were critically short during the last war. They further call for a study of the possibility of dispersing from coastal regions and placing underground key industrial plants as a means of defense.

President Truman's choice of the man who joined P & G as an office boy in 1905 and at 45 was president of a concern with 12,000 employees in 25 factories all over the world, was an obvious one on the basis of his wartime record.

Besides administering the affairs of his company, whose two shell loading plants turned out a large percentage of the missiles fired by our forces, Deupree played a major part in synthetic rubber production as chief of the agricultural and forest products section of the Office of Production Management. He served as a member and two-year chairman of the business advisory council for the department of commerce, to which he still belongs, and as a member of the War Labor Board. He was one of a dozen top industrialists named by President Roosevelt to an informal presidential advisory committee.

Gen. Breton H. Somervell, as chief of Army Service Forces in June 1943, appointed him to a small survey group to tour France and Germany and recommend disposition of surplus war vehicles.

Toy Railway-Sound
Setup Really Clicks

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK—Eric Carlson, 28-year-old lawyer, who is a miniature railroad fan, has equipped his model railroad system of four locomotives and 35 pieces of rolling stock with complete sound effects.

"I have actual recordings of locomotives going through mountain tunnels, across prairies, the sound effects of cars going over rails when they cross rails—you know, real railroad sounds," Carlson explains.

So whether one of his streamliners or an old fashioned engine is coming into the station you can hear the sounds of sand being put on, brakes being applied and steam being let off.

The reason Carlson is so particular about the sound is that he is blind.

"I don't miss much," he said, fingering the new features of a model.

Before a childhood affliction deprived him of his sight he watched trains making up in a Staten Island yard and the sights still stand out vividly in his memory.

He likes to ride in regular engine cars, too, which gives him a chance to brush up on the sound.

Lenten Vegetable Dishes

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS

Associated Press Food Editor

If you don't eat meat in Lent,

you needn't have fish at every meal. Vegetable dinners are very good—remember? And there are plenty of vegetables available at this season of the year—fresh, canned or quick-frozen to give you variety in your planning.

Just a lot of vegetables, boiled,

seasoned and served doesn't offer

much excitement, even if you've been good about color combinations and not overcooking. Almost any vegetable dinner you offer will be more interesting if it's based largely upon a sauce.

For instance, try this unusual suggestion of sweet potatoes with a sauce served in green-pepper

cups and decorated with bright parsley sprigs.

Sweet Potato Croquettes

2 cups cooked, mashed sweet potatoes, dry bread crumbs, ¼ cup butter or vitaminized margarine, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg, ¼ teaspoon cinnamon,

1 egg, 3 green peppers, halved,

1½ cups white sauce, parsley.

Mix potatoes, 1-3 cup breadcrumbs, butter or margarine, seasonings and egg. Shape into croquettes. Cover with dry bread crumbs. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) 30 minutes.

Parboil green peppers. Cut them in half and remove seeds and membrane. Fill halves with sauce made thus:

3 tablespoons butter or vitaminized margarine, 3 tablespoons flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, dash of pepper, 1½ cups milk.

Melt butter or margarine. Remove from stove and blend in flour smoothly. Add milk and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Season. Fill pepper halves and garnish with parsley. Serve on hot platter with sweet potato croquettes.

SORRY—

Right when more people than ever are asking for NEW GOOD LUCK—the margarine with the fresh country flavor—there's a shortage of the choice vegetable oils used in making it.

WE hate to see even a single one of Good Luck's good friends disappointed, but it is somewhat comforting to know that Good Luck has so many friends that grocers just can't seem to keep it in stock.

The only suggestion we can make—and it's the usual one—is to keep asking for NEW GOOD LUCK if your grocer happens to be out of it when you ask the first time.

He's getting regular shipments of this delicious margarine that makes good foods taste better—but those shipments aren't as big as we wish they could be. And NEW GOOD LUCK is one of the fastest selling brands your grocer carries.

UNO Not Likely To Settle In Uno, Va., Postmaster Believes

By The Associated Press
UNO, Va., March 30.—The inhabitants of Uno somehow just don't figure the United Nations headquarters is a place where they'd like to live. The recent advent of some "newspaper fellows" who talked about it as a good "site for the location" of the United Nations.

Matter of fact, there's not much similarity between Uno and the first letter in each of the three words "United Nations Organization" as meets the eye. This community's name is pronounced "you know."

Horace C. Weaver, the postmaster, said the place came by its unique name about 50 years ago when a congressman in the community of Kingdom wanted to establish a new post office so he could get his mail on Sundays.

"They wanted a name for it and since everybody said 'you know where and you know why' they all agreed to change it from Kingdom to Uno."

Weaver then got around to discussing the natural resources the place might have and said:

"I remember the day when I shipped wild rabbits a day from here by the hundreds. Now I've got a law on it. We've got some skunks, too. And the fishin' isn't as good as it used to be. But outside of that everything is fine."

"The railroad comes to Somerset, four miles away," he added. "Southern, double track. That might help the United Nations."

Weaver also expressed his doubts about airport facilities to handle any Uno traffic.

"I hear it takes about a square mile for an airport. I might find some flat land a mile long down in the bottoms but not a mile square. Roads are the way to get here. We are 10 miles from Madison, 10 miles from Orange and 10 miles from Gordonsville. "Seems like we're 10 miles from most everywhere."

Silence in Courtroom!

The Judge Likes Music

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK—Magistrate J. Roland Sala delivered an opinion on that piano playing, Louis Bach and bongie-woogie, is music, not noise. The principals in the case accepted the decision without indicating appeal to the supreme court.

Timothy Collins was charged with disorderly conduct by William L. McMahon. McMahon accused Collins of annoying him by telephone calls and then with a policeman in an attempt to silence McMahon's piano.

In the best Solomon tradition, the magistrate ruled that if McMahon withdrew his complaint he could play his piano six nights a week until 11 p. m. on Saturdays until midnight, and twice each month all night long.

Rayon Stocking Sale Develops Bad Run

By The Associated Press
PATERSON, N. J.—A hose dealer was reported to the OPA district office by three women for overcharges on rayon stockings. Owl with Four-Block Hoot-Spread Killed

By The Associated Press
TRENTON, N. J.—Nights are quiet now in the heart of New Jersey's capital. An owl that had made the screech of Prospect St.

Presbyterian church its home in recent weeks has been killed. Harold A. Peterson, sample jack, shot the bird. It had a wing spread of four feet and—of importance to local residents—hoot-spread of four blocks. West Point was founded in 1802.

Liberalized Naturalization Rules For Armed Service Members Received Here
Rules governing naturalization of persons who have served or are serving in the armed forces of the United States have been received by Elmer E. Smith, Marion county clerk of courts.
The clerk's office also has forms available for naturalization under the new ruling. Persons interested should bring proof of their having served in the armed forces, Mr. Smith said.
The naturalization section for veterans provides certain exemptions from the usual requirements for naturalization. Among them are the following: 1. No declaration of intention is required. 2. The petition may be filed in any court having naturalization jurisdiction. 3. The petitioner will not be required to speak the English language, nor will it be necessary for him to sign the petition in his own handwriting. 4. The petitioner need only prove he was lawfully admitted to the United States, but not necessarily for permanent residence, and if he served overseas and entered the United States prior to Sept. 1, 1943, he need not prove his lawful admission to the United States. 5. No fee is charged for filing the petition or the issuance of the certificate of naturalization.
Any petition for naturalization filed by a member or former member of the armed forces after Dec. 31, 1945 will not be entitled to the benefits and exemptions available under the present section. Any alien who begins service in the U. S. army on or after Dec. 28, 1945 will not be eligible for naturalization under the section.

1,300 Hear Annual Spring Concert by Harding Orchestra

By FRANCES HAAS

The Harding High school orchestra, under the direction of its conductor, Homer Hufman, and its guest violinist, George L. Hardesty, shared in the applause of the large audience which practically filled the Palace theater Wednesday night for the orchestra's annual spring concert.

Under the capable direction of their leader, the orchestra gave a performance which merited the generous applause and provided an entertaining evening of music for the approximately 1,300 persons attending.

Displaying precision in his violin numbers, Mr. Hardesty, with his light and quick touch to the strings made his selections more enjoyable. Mr. Hardesty's accompanied by Gertrude Kiehlert also, was appreciated for her fine playing. Mr. Hardesty, who is violinist for the Columbus Philharmonic orchestra and professor of music at Ohio State university, presented as his first selection a soft and slow movement, "Jota" by De Falla. The "Polka" from "Schaanda" by Weinberger was a second selection. Mr. Hardesty concluded his program with the "Andante and Rhapsody" by Schumann and the "Concerto in E Minor" by Mendelssohn. The last selection was particularly well liked by the music lovers in the audience.

A colorful setting on the stage of the theater was provided by the girls of the orchestra, which is composed of 35 pieces, in various colored spring formal and the boys in various colored suits. The program consisted of selections from operas, ballads and overtures.

The first and playing of the national anthem, opened the program of the evening. The first selection of the orchestra, "Schaanda" by Weinberger, an overture by Bar-Anna. This was followed by the "Andante" from the "Surprise Symphony" by Haydn. The latter number is just what the title indicates. It begins with the strings playing very softly and then breaks in to a loud chord by the entire orchestra.

"Les Adieux" by Sarasate was then played and the "Maren Melancholy" by Schumann ended the first group of numbers by the orchestra. A special selection the orchestra played a lively number, "Cannon Populaire" by Alister, which in English means a popular song.

Following the selections by Mr. Hardesty, two numbers of the Marimba were given by LaVada Ellison. The first was a melody in this melody was "I Love You Truly" and "End of a Verdict Day." As a march, "Our National Honor," by Brooks, completed the program.

Nearly 800 boys and girls from the fourth fifth and sixth grades of the various schools in the city accompanied by several teachers, attended a program given by the orchestra and Mr. Hardesty in the afternoon.

The Band and Orchestra Parents' association, headed by Dallas Haruff as president, sponsored the concert, and also the one presented earlier in the year by the Harding band. The first and playing of the national anthem, opened the program of the evening. The first selection of the orchestra, "Schaanda" by Weinberger, an overture by Bar-Anna. This was followed by the "Andante" from the "Surprise Symphony" by Haydn. The latter number is just what the title indicates. It begins with the strings playing very softly and then breaks in to a loud chord by the entire orchestra.

Roosevelt on April 13, the day after the first anniversary of his death, will replace the regular "Our Foreign Policy" series for that date. The broadcast is one of several planned in connection with the anniversary. Among them is the April 12 ceremonies of the presentation of the Roosevelt Hyde Park estate to the government, now arranged to be heard both in the afternoon and at night.

The direct transmission at 2:30, Mrs. F. D. Roosevelt, President Truman and others participating, will go via NBC, CBS and ABC. The night relay at 8:30 by VBS will be made by transcription.

Topics tonight, NBC-7:30 Bob Burns, 8:30 Dinah Shore show, 9 Frank Morgan with Bing Crosby; 10 Abbott and Costello 10:30 Rudy Vallee. Woman's Prerogative To Change Her Mind

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK—Mamie D'Faria, a police traffic agent for the Eastern A. C. W. had a change of heart — the cool gray dawn of the morning after she went to a police station before breakfast and told the desk sergeant that during a spat with her boy friend, she had thrown a $400 string of pearls through the window of a store.

Would the police please go and fetch the necklace?

An obliging department of law enforcement officers later retrieved the necklace and the woman was released.

People stricken with the dreadful disease of the Far East, are now being given a combination of blood plasma, salt solution, and cod liver oil.

WASHINGTON, March 28—Labor department officials said today government seizure of strike-bound farm equipment plants and idle California canneries was increasingly probable.

Both have an important bearing on the nation's food supply.

The California canneries process about a third of the country's canned fruits and vegetables. And farmers badly need new machinery to meet record crop production goals set by the government in effort to avert starvation abroad.

Labor department officials said both situations would be placed before Secretary of Labor Schweitzer either today or tomorrow.

Schweitzer and Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson invited the presidents of three leading farm equipment concerns to a meeting here today. The companies are involved in a contract dispute with the CIO Farm Equipment workers union, which has lost 42,500 persons since 1937.

The cabinet officers' telegrams to Foster McCormick of International Harvester Co. at Chicago, L. R. Clausen of J. I. Case Co. at Racine, Wis., and Walter Gust of Allis-Chalmers Co. at West Allis, Wis., said strikes at 17 plants of the three companies had brought on a "grave emergency."

Anderson's and Schweitzer's joint appeal was followed almost immediately by the collapse of federal conciliation efforts in the International Harvester case.

George Hodge, the company's labor relations manager, walked out of a two-day old meeting, saying further talks were fruitless.

That dispute had been brought here in an effort to settle other issues remaining after both sides had agreed to a federal fact-finding board's recommendation for an 18 cent an hour wage increase.

WASHINGTON, March 28—Congressional foes of the committee on un-American activities prepared today to ask the house to repudiate the group.

Leaders of the move told newsmen they would make their effort when the committee seeks house approval of its action in citing 16 persons for contempt.

The committee voted yesterday to press the contempt proceedings today against Edward K. Bates, chairman of the Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee committee of New York, and 15 members of its executive board. The action grew out of the organization's refusal to supply records which had been subpoenaed by a committee.

Critics of the house group contend the citation is the outgrowth of an abuse of subpoena power. They also assert that the committee is exceeding its authority in other ways, particularly in trying to run down a reported atomic spy ring.

WASHINGTON, March 28—A shipload of Jewish immigrants who headed for Palestine without immigration permits was escorted to the Athin clearance camp today after being intercepted by a British destroyer. The group of 733 persons including 280 women was taken from the Turkish motorship Asya. The immigrants ranged in age from 16 to 25 and many were former inmates of German prisons. They sailed from a port in southern France 15 days ago.

Marion Golden Gloves Champ Wins Way to National Tournament

Delaware Boy Grabs State Title in 135-Pound Class

Charles Moore Defeats Two Foes: Carey's Strahm and Delaware's Byles Lose in Columbus Finals.

By JIM DABBY

Charles Moore, colored lightweight from Delaware, carried Marion's standard into a state championship last night when he repeated his final night feat of the local tournament by beating two fighters in the Columbus state tournament. He will be the state lightweight representative at the national AAU tournament in Boston April 8 and 9.

His best fight of the evening was against Lester Spurlock of Columbus whom he failed to knock out but greatly outpointed. In the championship bout he coasted to an easy decision over William Thomas of Cincinnati. His manager, John Wilson of the Delaware Community Athletic club, thought Moore failed to show his best but perhaps he was prejudiced by the first night performance when he KO'd his opponent in 24 seconds.

Carey Youth Loses

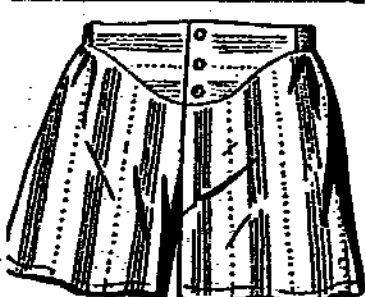

Lawrence Strahm of Carey drew a bye in the first round and was knocked out by Wallace Smith of Cincinnati in the 118-pound championship match. Strahm was felled with nine seconds of the third round yet remaining. He won runnerup award.

Donald Byles of Delaware, Marion district representative in the flyweight division lost a decision to Rex Stroth of Springfield. Most fans and Stroth himself thought Byles had won when the final bell sounded. Stroth came over to congratulate Byles but the judges decided that since Byles won a close decision the previous night, this bout should go to Stroth. The winner went on to lose the championship fight when he was knocked out in the second round by Robert Holliday of Cincinnati.

Other Results

John Tucker of Columbus won the light-heavyweight crown when he knocked out John Vinegar of Cincinnati in the second round.

Three of the other titles were awarded on decisions: Warren Tucker, 146, of Columbus won over Elgie Cumberlander, 147, of Columbus. Bob Landis, 150, of

SOFTBALL BANQUET SET FOR APRIL 10

Last Year's Winners Due To Get Pennants.

April 10 was the date picked for the softball banquet at a meeting last night of the city softball commission presided over by T. H. McKinney. Managers and team captains of all teams competing in last year's league races will be guests of honor.

Pennants will be presented to Universal Cooler, winner of the industrial league, St. Mary, winner of the church league and Schallert Transfer, winner of the commercial league and the city playoff.

Anyone wishing to attend the banquet may do so by sending reservations to Kenneth Somerlot at the Y.M.C.A.

Plans for reorganizing the softball commission were discussed and Robert Smith was appointed head of a committee to purchase equipment. Preparing the grounds was assigned to Edward Cheney.

Truman's Horseshoe Court Plans Bring Cheers of Politicos

WASHINGTON, March 23—Congressmen today hailed President Truman's decision to build a horseshoe court on the south grounds of the White House.

Party lines were ignored. Republicans joined Democrats in calling the plan "a move in the right direction."

The whole thing came up after Mr. Truman told Rep. George Bender (R-Ohio) he hankered for a little exercise and so planned a horseshoe court.

Rep. Clarence Brown (R-Ohio), who measures 6 feet, 2 inches tall and not a great deal less around, declared:

"It's a move in the right direction. I might even play myself. Of course, the President will have to agree to pick up the shoes for me. With my middle, I'll need a caddy."

Truman Trains For Horseshoe Pitching

WASHINGTON, March 23—President Truman has started spring training for the horseshoe pitching season by taking early morning walks around the streets of Washington.

Yesterday, for example, he strolled Pennsylvania avenue and adjoining streets for 15 minutes before returning to the White House for breakfast.

White House visitors told reporters yesterday that the President is looking forward to pitching horseshoes on the south grounds soon. Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said today the chief executive expects to stick to the "Missouri barnyard" style of heaving the hoooves, rather than trying anything fancy.

Cardinal Prexy Jumps Gun Out of Confidence City Will Win Ticket Sale Contest.

So confident is Judge W. Dexter Hazen, president of the local ball club, that Marion will win the opening day advance ticket sale, he has drawn up a tentative guest list. The contest, now narrowed down to Marion and Dayton, closes April 1. "Happy" Chandler and Gov. Lausche will attend the opening day game of the city having the best advance ticket totals.

In addition to the "prizes," Frank M. Colley, president of the Ohio State league will be present and Sam Bredon, president of the St. Louis Cardinals, has promised to try to make it. So has Joe Mathes, head of the Cardinal farm system.

Has List All Ready
Judge Hazen said today that if Marion wins he will invite Jack Sheehan, head of the Chicago Cub farm system, Al Banister, president of the Columbus Red Birds, Edward Gilliland of the Toledo Mud Hens, Bruce Dudley of the Louisville Colonels, Emmett Reiley and Bob Quinn. Quinn was the president of the first pro ball club Marion had and Reiley was a star catcher for Marion in the old Ohio State league.

Results of the ticket sale will be wired into the Ohio State league office at noon April 1 and the winners will be announced shortly thereafter. Should Marion win, the invitations will go out immediately.

Other League News

MARION'S BEST WRESTLING CARD

Tonight at the Marion Armory, a wrestling card has been signed to please all the fans. One of the main events is a graduate match between Whitley Walberg and the rough Canadian, Monty LaDue. Last week LaDue strangled Walberg's partner so bad he had to be carried from the ring. This week Whitley is asking for the chance to even things up. The other ninety minute match is between two of the best known clean boys in the game, Walter Stratton and Irish McGee. Both McGee and Stratton are well known in Marion for their cleverness and a great match is expected of these two. A preliminary will start the show at 8:30 and to make the show one of the best Young Sander has signed to referee all bouts.

Futile Phillies Pack Big Punch This Season

By CHIP ROYAL

AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

MIAMI BEACH, Fla.—When fellows like Vince DiMaggio, Ron Northey, Frank McCormick, Jim Taber and Jim Wasdell get all excited about spring training, there must be something in the air.

As a matter of fact, it would be tough for any baseball fan to visit Flamingo Park and see the Philadelphia Phillies in action without wondering what is going to happen to the perennial cellar club this year.

Not only have the above five got "winnings" so bad it sticks out all over, but so have Manager Ben Chapman, General Manager Herb Pennock and President Bob Carpenter.

Heaven help the writer who meets all three of the Quakers' brains at the same time. They can give more good reasons for the future success of the Phils than 300 other guys.

Spirit Is Contagious

Then, there are Coaches Benny Bengough and Cy Perkins, not to mention a host of scouts here too, who are imbued with the spirit which has been foreign to the Philadelphia National Leaguers for so long a time.

They all add up to the same words: "The Phils are through being doormats for the rest of the league. There's the greatest battle on for positions that the club has ever known. No man is sure of his job.

Taber, Northey, McCormick and DiMaggio will form a "mud-squads" row which will cause sleepless nights for many a pitcher before the season is over.

"The Phillies will have one of the best infield combinations ever to represent the club."

"Tommy Hughes, Charley Schanz, Oscar Judd, John Humphries, Hugh Mulcahy, Alvin Jurisch, Ken Raffensberger, Chet Covington and Andy Karl will be a tough-to-beat pitching staff."

See Big Times
Carpenter and Pennock are so sure that they are going to build a pennant winner in a few years that they are already planning for their own park and the greatest attendance the club has ever had."

Those are just a few of all the confident statements flying all over this lively camp. The Phils probably won't even get in the first division this season, but they will give all contenders a terrific battle.

As Manager Chapman puts it: "A fighter who can keep punching when the going is tough can't be kicked. We'll outthrust every club in the league and keep pounding them until we knock them down below our size."

Richwood Nosed Out by Magnetic, 53-50

Playing their best game of the season, Richwood Independents made the powerful Inco Hotel team go all out to down the Richwood aggregation 53 to 50 Tuesday night at Magnetic Springs.

Inco Hotel's original opponent was scheduled to be Springfield Coca Cola and Richwood was substituted at the last moment when Springfield couldn't show up.

Richwood played Inco Hotel to a 21 all standstill in the first half and fell by the wayside only in the last minutes of the nip and tuck second quarter. McAllister of the losers led scoring with 25 points.

Dykes Adds Hollywood Touch To Sox Training

Jimmy Dykes goes Hollywood and meets Charlie McCarthy. Maybe Jimmy thinks there's more good wood in Charlie's right hand than in some of those Chicago White Sox bats.

By BILL DECKER
AP Newsfeatures Writer.
PASADENA, Calif. — Never a moment in the Chicago White Sox's training camp, probably as colorful a spring gathering as baseball has ever had, is not because of Jimmy Dykes, the former pitcher, who is now a Hollywood actor. Every day, including his special, umpire batting—drives the ball. And now, to top it off, he is going to Hollywood.
Among the movie colony in the past few years has brought the full-flavored ham in the Sox camp. In addition to the inimitable stogie, Dykes' working wardrobe now includes gaudy, multi-colored shirts, baggy slacks, and dark glasses. And he also bawls instructions at his men through a megaphone.
He prefers to be called director instead of manager. In the best tradition of the cinema, he supervises his hirelings while jolling back in a director's chair.

Quarter-finals Set for Friday Night at Chicago.

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, March 28.—Six midwestern teams and two eastern contenders will compete in the quarter-finals of the world's professional basketball tournament at the Chicago stadium Friday night.
In first round competition concluded before a crowd of 9,500 last night, the New York Rens, Oshkosh, Wis., All-Stars, and Baltimore, Md., Bullets emerged winners as the 14-team field was whittled down to eight quintets last night.
The Rens, Gotham Negro team, established a tournament scoring record with an 82-39 victory over Chuck Chuckovits' Toledo, Ohio, entry. The previous record was 80 points by the Dayton, Ohio, Acers against the Chicago American Gears last year.
In the two other games, the Bullets grabbed a 61-58 victory over the Dayton, Ohio, Miceys, and Oshkosh romped to a 60-32 decision over the Detroit Mansfields.
Friday night's quarter-final pairings send the Rens against Oshkosh; Baltimore against the Anderson, Ind., Chiefs; the Chicago American Gears against the Sheboygan, Wis., Redskins; and the Midland, Mich. Dons against the defending champion Fort Wayne Zollners.

NEW YORK, March 28.—After watching the Oklahoma Aggies take their second straight national collegiate A.A. basketball title, you find it hard to write about anything or anyone but Bob Kurland. You remember Bob when he first played in New York four years ago—a lanky, awkward, seven-footer who galloped around the court with his shoulders bowed in an obvious effort to minimize his great height. He was only 17 then, lacking in coordination and skill and painfully

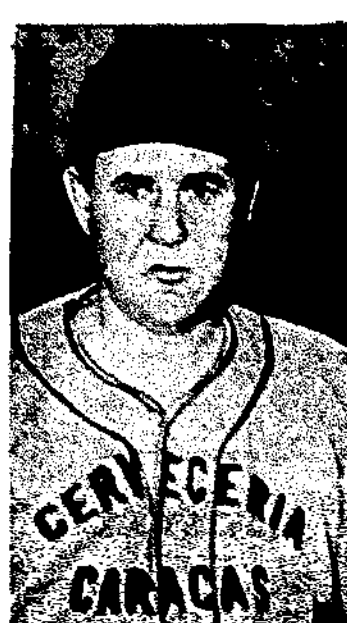

Middletown Manager Appointed by Reds
By The Associated Press
MIDDLETOWN, O., March 28.—The Cincinnati Reds have named Mike Blazo of Bound Brook, N. J., as manager of their Middletown farm club in the Ohio State league. J. R. Baker, president of the local club, announced today.
Blazo, who is 29, served for a time as catcher for Minneapolis in the American association. He has been in professional ball since 1935.
DODGER HURLER GOOD
By The Associated Press
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 28.—Hal Gregg, Brooklyn pitching ace, had twirled 11 consecutive shutout innings before the Yanks scored a run off him in the third inning yesterday.

Something To Remember
Last Tuesday's performance is something you don't forget soon. At 21, Kurland still isn't a finished player but he's a good all-around man on the basketball court. It wasn't just his height that made him a standout, for Bob's best baskets came on difficult hook shots and he also played the roles of feeder and defensive star. Of the Aggies' 16 baskets, Bob scored nine and passed for three more. Kurland is slated to play in the Garden again Saturday in the All-Star East-West game and he may turn pro. He's had offers up to $7,500 a season and he's telling the bidders that he'll wait until he's through college before he decides. But it was a grand farewell to the fans who have watched him develop. If anyone tries to talk about the "evil" of basketball, you can tell him what a good game and a good coach have done for this boy who might have gone the high life thinking of himself as a freak.

One of a Kind
Before Tuesday's game, Ozzie Cowles, Dartmouth coach, observed that he doesn't think the extra-ball boys will dominate basketball as much in the future as they did during the war. The coaches, he said, won't devote as much time to developing overzealous athletes as they did when those boys were among the few safe from the draft.

Gomez Learns Managing Has Its Headaches

By ALLAN STEWART
Associated Press Writer
CARACAS, Venezuela.—Vernon (Lefty) Gomez, the former Yankee pitcher, has just penned a letter to his one-time manager, Joe McCarthy, taking back everything he had ever said about his managing.
"You see," wrote Lefty, "I am a manager myself now, and I know that anything you did that I thought was dumb when I was playing with the Yanks, must have been perfectly okay." That the Rodeo, Calif., player is the Rodeo, Calif., player is looking for a coaching job. It just means Lefty knows the headaches of a manager.
Even Leon Weight
The former slim southpaw has lost 11 pounds since he came to Caracas in February to manage the Cerveteria Caracas team in the Venezuelan professional championship. This reduction to an even 200 pounds, Lefty claims, is

LEFTY GOMEZ
Even Frowns Like a Manager

and shook it out of a losing streak to top four games in a row and grab a second hold on second place. Two of these victories were at the expense of the league leading Vargas team which has four Negro National League players on the roster, including Roy Wel-maker, a good southpaw.
Gomez inaugurated a week-day practice, which is not the custom here, and he has been devoting his efforts to teaching the players fundamentals like bunting.
Venezuelan baseball always has been under the influence of Cuban and Puerto Rican players, and the bunt is not exactly popular.

Anxious To Learn
But the Venezuelans are anxious to learn, and Lefty's teaching has improved their playing as well as their English. Lefty needs an interpreter to give instructions. The players, however, get an idea quickly, and they occasionally startle Gomez by interrupting their stream of Spanish to say "snappy workout, eh, Lefty?"
The former Yankee star is the first ex-major leaguer to come to Venezuela to teach baseball, and he probably can stay here as long as he wishes.
Gomez is high on his whole team, but his favorite is a four-foot-six substitute outfielder named "Tirabiquitos" Machado, who Lefty claims has as good a throwing arm as Joe DiMaggio.

Jack Recalls Power in Roosevelt Arms

By The Associated Press
BOSTON.—The power of Franklin Delano Roosevelt's arms was one of the things about the late President that impressed Jack Dempsey, former world's boxing champion.
Reminiscing during a visit to Boston to referee wrestling bouts, Dempsey said:
"I met him on the eve of his last election. He had the most powerful arms that I've ever seen, much bigger than mine. He used to say, 'Jack, if your legs were only as big as my arms there would never have been a Tunney.'"

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

"No," I answered. "Olga said nothing, except that the ring Georges had given Olga was the heirloom which the kings of Treas always presented to their brides. 'It's no doubt the same one the lad described with such gusto to me,' Mary said flippantly. 'I really shall be curious to see it in the flesh,' as it were, or I suppose I should say 'on the flesh.'"

An Atrocious Pun
"That is an atrocious pun," I said severely.
"I know it," she said with an impish grin. "But put it down to shell shock. I really didn't expect ever to get a gander at that ring, and especially with it decorating the ring finger of another girl!"

She lifted her own hand and looked at the exquisite sapphire and diamond circlet in its old-fashioned setting which guarded her wedding ring. I knew that it was the ring which Philip Verit-

zen had given his gentle bride whom he had married when his despairing love for Olga was still a "bar-sinister" had worn off sufficiently to permit him to begin living again. That bride, Noel's mother, had died in Noel's boyhood, and I wondered again, as I often had done before, if she had known that despite her husband's chivalrous tenderness, his love always had belonged to the beautiful royal princess, later queen of Transylvania, who now, years afterward, was his wife.

Gazing Fondly
But the ring of Noel's mother was on Mary's finger, and she was gazing at it fondly.
"If Olga has any shadow of an idea that I ever would have traded this ring for a dozen heirlooms of the court of Treas," she said scornfully, "she had better trot the shadow out and drown it—if you can drown a shadow," she finished, with an infectious chuckle.

"I never heard of the process," I said demurely. "But I would like to hear Georges' description of that heirloom ring."
She looked at me oddly.
"I don't know whether or not I ought to give it to you," she said. "If he was spoofing me, and gave me a phony sizer on it, I wouldn't want even you to know it while I was sitting there at the luncheon table. Later, I wouldn't mind telling you all about it."

"You don't mind, will you?" she asked anxiously.
"Of course not," I told her, smiling.
Then I rose with decision.
"But I really must be getting back to your uncle," I said. "Besides, Katharine may want something of me."

"I've repeated every word that Olga said," I told her.
"And am I grateful to both of you!" she said, kissing me warmly. "I'll tell her so, too, when I get the chance. And now, I'll lie me down to my husband and my own nest, and try to think up some way of keeping the situation well in hand."

Uneasy Laughter
She laughed impulsively at her quotation, but there was uneasiness behind the laughter, and despite the provocation which I knew she had given Olga, my heart was hot with anger against the former princess who was planning to humiliate her with the flaunting of her heirloom ring.

"I'll place my wagers on you," I told her emphatically. "And don't forget to put on your most attractive luncheon gown."

"Mary, Queen of Scots, going to execution?" she glibbed with another mirthless laugh, and then she followed me into the other room, where Dicky looked at me uneasily.

"I wish you'd check up on Mother again," he said.

Finds "Under-Sitter" for Baby on Plane

By The Associated Press
NEWARK, N. J.—An Airlines clerk at Newark Airport who must have thought he was still in the Army came up with a regulation that a mother of twins must find an under-sitter for the extra youngster if she wanted to take them to Omaha.

The obliging mother bought two adult tickets, the extra one for the "under-sitter"—an adult over 18 to hold an infant under one year old.

THE LADY FROM GEORGIA

Congresswoman Sets New Pattern for Old South.

HELEN DOUGLAS MANKIN with the family pet dog, Rose.

By HENRY LESENE
Associated Press Writer

ATLANTA—The part of the nation-old-lace South that is to be "Gone With the Wind" is being written by a woman who came up the hard way—at no sacrifice of feminine charm or grace.

She is a distinguished-looking woman, Helen Douglas Mankin, a 42-year-old woman who represents the South's most populous congressional district, Atlanta and its environs.

For years a lawyer, she believes there is a need in politics for more progressive women and that a woman, politically and personally, should rise by ability and hard work.

She has been in politics for many years, and she has but two interests: her home and her office, which in the same suite as that of a mechanical engineer husband in a downtown office building, "Gone With the Wind," of course, includes politics.

"Most people can't believe it," she says, "but I'm a good cook and a good housekeeper. I also can and preserve a lot of food in the summer months."

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backaches only once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking out of the body the waste products of the blood. When they become tired, the waste products build up in the blood, and this causes backaches, stiffness, and a general feeling of weariness.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisons to remain in your blood, it is not your back, but your kidneys, that are the cause of your backaches, stiffness, and a general feeling of weariness.

Ohio Boy Hands Out Grandma's "Play" Money

COLUMBUS, O., March 28—Six-year-old Jerry Lyle is only in 1st at Southwood Avenue school, but today he had a good education in the monetary system.

He has learned, for example, that those pieces of paper marked "50 dollars" and "100 dollars" which he blithely passed among classmates yesterday were not play money.

ABOARD A TRANS-ATLANTIC AIRLINER, March 28—The editor of a Paris newspaper I bought just before boarding this plane for New York is splashing headlines which if placed before some hermits not familiar with recent events likely would compel him to the belief that the relations among the major powers have gone to the dogs.

There is Russia's initial setback in the UNO security council over the Iranian question after a battle royal. Lt. Gen. Bedell Smith, en route to Moscow to take up his duties as American ambassador, said in Germany he is going to tell Prime Minister Stalin that the people of the United States want reassurance of the Soviet Union's motives. Just to show that this cuts both ways, the Moscow radio the other day said Russia wanted reassurance.

about the motives of the western Allies. Finally, my front page reports that over Russian opposition the United States has won UNRRA approval of a mandate to prevent occupying armies from living off the land they conquered. There are a lot of other items, but they all add up to the same thing. The big three nations finally have arrived at the time when a showdown on numerous vital questions is being called for. That's the best news I've encountered since starting my European tour in November, for the uncertainties growing out of the unsettled differences between Russia, Britain and America have had a highly disturbing influence.

MIDWAY RESTAURANT SALE ANNOUNCED

Nick Paulson To Transfer Ownership to C. H. Priode.

Negotiations for the sale of the Midway restaurant at 127 East Center street to Cleveland interests were practically complete today.

Transfer of ownership from Nick Paulson of Thew avenue to Charles H. Priode of Shaker Heights, Cleveland, is expected to be made late today or tomorrow. Mr. Priode will operate the business under the name of Midway Restaurant Co., beginning April 1. Articles of incorporation were issued by the secretary of state this week.

The new owner, a native of Ohio, recently resigned from the S. S. Kresge company, with which he has been associated since his graduation from Ohio State university 22 years ago. He has managed stores for the company in Evansville, Ind.; East St. Louis, Ill.; and Akron and Cleveland. Mr. Paulson said he intended to take a long vacation and has no definite business plans for the future.

HERSHEY CALLS FOR DRAFT EXTENSION

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, March 28 — Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey told congress today the draft law must be extended if the Army is to get the 600,000 men it needs in the next 12 months.

Major General Hershey estimated that the Army required about 50,000 men monthly but could obtain only one-fifth of that number through enlistments if the Selective Service law were permitted to lapse on May 15.

He was the first witness as the senate military affairs committee began two weeks of public hearings.

As Hershey began reading a prepared statement calling attention to mobilization of 14,000,000 men during the war and peacetime "commitments at home and abroad," Chairman Elbert Thomas (D-Utah) interrupted. "Let's forget the commitments abroad and get right down to the question involved," Thomas said curtly.

Thomas, who has opposed extension of the draft, said he believed voluntary enlistments would provide all the men the armed forces needed under present plans. "We've broken all records for voluntary enlistments," Thomas said.

Hershey asserted the reason was that thousands of young men volunteered only because they thus avoided being drafted.

In addition to the 50,000 needed monthly by the Army, General Hershey said the Navy must recruit 27,000 men each month until Sept. 1 if it is to reach the proposed minimum peacetime strength of 500,000.

GEORGE W. MEEKER TAKES LIFE HERE

Death of Retired Machinist Called Suicide by Coroner.

George Washington Meeker, 73, a resident of 355 Girard avenue, was found dead this forenoon in the garage back of his home. Dr. Frederick T. Merchant, Marion county coroner, was called. Verdict on his death was suicide by hanging, and the time of death was judged to be about 9 a. m. He was found by a member of the family. Neighbors stated that he had been in ill health and depressed for some time.

Born June 15, 1872 at Powell, O., in Delaware county, he was a son of Wycliffe Meeker and Mary Lowery Meeker, natives of Delaware county. Sept. 25, 1902, he married Eliza Girard in Huntington, Ind. A resident of Marion 20 years, he came here from "piper Sandusky." He was a retired machinist, and had worked for the Marion Steam Shovel Co. He was a member of Calvary Evangelical church, the Men's Bible class of the church and Macedonia Lodge No. 616 at Upper Sandusky.

Surviving are his widow, two sons, Louis W. Meeker of Erie, Pa., and Curtil L. Meeker of Upper Sandusky, a daughter, Mrs. Friday

Lillian Reynolds of Prospect, and two brothers, Charles of Marion and Albert of Cardington. Funeral arrangements were not complete at noon today. Friends may call at the Boyd and Unger paper funeral home on West Columbia street after 7:30 p. m. Friday.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Ben Ryder and the Wanderlust

During the war, Ben Ryder talked about the trips he'd take when gasoline rationing was ended. Used to pore over roadmaps—checking mileages and charting routes.

Now Ben's taking quite a lot of ribbing. Soon as rationing was lifted, he decided he liked staying home, putting in the garden, playing chess, sharing a pleasant glass of beer with friends.

"Shucks," admits Ben sheepishly, "as soon as you can go, then it's just as good as having gone!"

You might as well stay home, enjoy your friends and family. From where I sit, that's a pretty common trait in human nature.

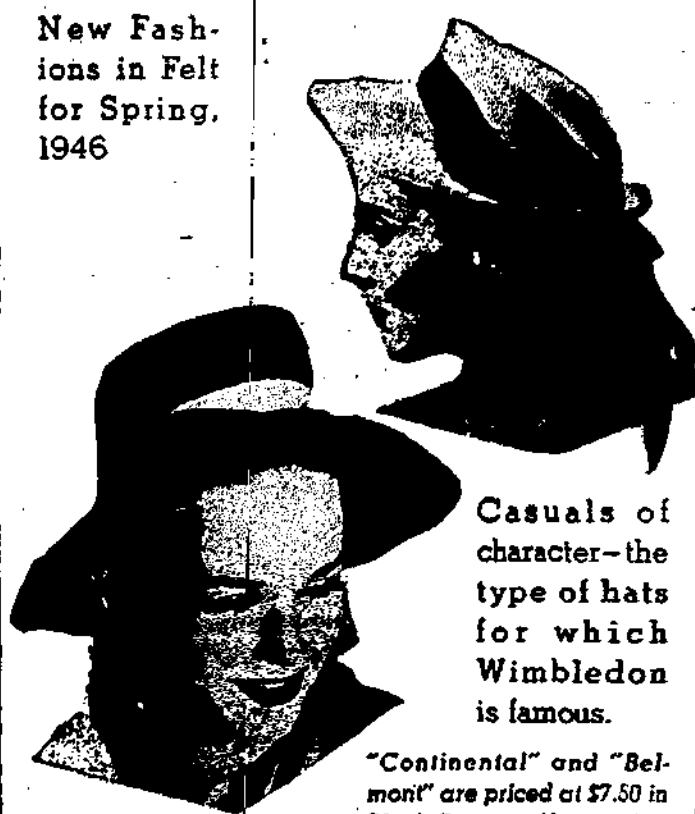

Take that glass of beer, for instance. During Prohibition, Ben was savoring an inimitable thirst. But come repeal, Ben suddenly finds he's happy with a friendly, moderate glass of beer—and nothing more. Yep—just tell folks the sky's the limit, and they'll settle for a place of friendly earth.

It Was President Who Needed Protectorate

By The Associated Press

TANGIER—A sultan of Morocco who wanted the United States to establish a protectorate over his dominions once tendered the President the gift of a man-eating lion.

This Arabian Nights tale is buried in archives of the American diplomatic agent and consul general in Tangier in a series of messages dating from January, 1915.

"It is a big lion and apparently very fierce," says the first frantic note to the State Department. "It came in a cage and with an expert keeper to look after it."

"Please send immediate instructions."

The department wrote back that the President "cannot find any use for the lion in Washington." But the agent, knowing the sultan would feel insulted if his gift was not accepted, arranged to ship the beast just the same.

Weeks later, the records show, the lion sailed for America with its keeper and an interpreter for him—each on the State Department payroll at $30 a month.

There's nothing here to indicate whether the lion ate the interpreter en route, but the sultan didn't get his protectorate.

The program will include the following numbers: "Beautiful Savior," "My God and I," "Sergeant," "Hear My Prayer," "The Great Awakening," "Kramer," "Arise, O Sun," "Day, Mrs. Hale," "When Children Pray," "Fennel," "I Wonder As I Wander," "Horton," and "I Heard a Forest Praying." About 65 members composing the chorus will go to Richwood for the program.

Rev. Don McAlpine of Harrisburg, Pa., a former Navy man, will speak at the Marion Youth for Christ meeting Saturday night at 8 in the Masonic hall. Dr. C. E. Hershey, director, announced.

After his conversion several years ago while serving in the U. S. Navy, Rev. McAlpine preached in many missions and jails. He was transferred to the Naval Supply depot at Mechanicsburg, Pa., and while there, started the Harrisburg Youth for Christ. A native of California, he attended college there. He also attended the Philadelphia School of the Bible in Pennsylvania. This service will be a "message from youth to youth," Dr. Hershey said.

A quintet of girls from Sandusky, O., will present special musical numbers. Miss Nancy Hill, also of Sandusky, will present several violin selections. Miss Hill has been playing at several of the Ohio Youth for Christ meetings.

The broadcast period of the Youth for Christ will be 8:30 to

Competition for Converts
THE WEB of wishful thinking which conceals, or tries to conceal, the competition between the United States and the Soviet Union for converts to their respective ways of life is being cut wide open by French negotiators seeking American financial assistance.

French Foreign Minister Bidault, backing up Leon Blum on his mission to Washington, has hinted broadly that if the United States does not make the loan France seeks it will be forced to look to Russia, instead. M. Blum is believed to be using the same argument in direct negotiations with President Truman and Secretary of State Byrnes. France is too desperate to conceal the coercion that has become its best hope of getting what it needs.

The same competition is visible in many other quarters. It is implicit in this government's effort to furnish food to Europe lest the desperation of hunger force more Europeans into Russia's orbit of influence. It is the driving force behind the struggle for prestige in Asia and for influence in Latin America.

Competition for ideological support is the fundamental issue in the mind of Winston Churchill when he criticizes Russian policy and in the mind of Prime Minister Stalin when he reports that Russia has the right to make the most of its war-won prestige as a major power. No amount of circumspection on the part of diplomats reluctant to admit that competition for converts is the great reality of the moment can conceal the fact that it underlies virtually every plan and act of international relations.

Veterans Will Have To Be Shown
THE TRUMAN administration's veterans' housing program surged ahead in a spectacular manner Tuesday, marked by a fresh edit forbidding virtually all other construction. Veterans may get no more houses than before, but they always can take shelter under the red tape.
Only one thing could justify this gross interference with the construction industry and its customers—more houses for veterans than would have been obtainable in any other way. Veterans will have to be shown. So will everybody else.

Houses cannot be built by edict. All the master-minds in Washington, provided they could find the material, couldn't build a chicken house.
Houses must be built by carpenters, masons, plumbers, tinsmiths, roofers, plasterers, electricians and painters. They must be built by capital, by architects and by people with the wherewithal to pay for them.

The building industry has been handicapped by material shortages. Some of the shortages are aggravated by government fumbling. No matter how many orders and clarifying statements are handed down by Washington, there can be no more new houses than there are materials to put into them. The industry's problems aren't going to be solved by the presence of a brand new bureaucratic monkey wrench in the tool chest.

So far, the net effect of government masterminding in the housing shortage has been a shrinkage in reliable estimates of the new units that are going to be built. Further interference, unless relieved by action to ease the materials shortage, will bring a further shrinkage.

As Advertised
AN advertising campaign to familiarize the public with the honorable discharge insignia of demobilized service got under way about six months ago and continued until early this year.
By then, advertisements no longer were needed.
Everybody had seen the insignia many times and knew what it meant.

It is pleasant to recall that the advertising stressed the theme that the insignia was a "badge of distinction." The public, it was pointed out, would look at its wearers with the respect due those who had served the nation in one of its finest hours.

It is pleasant to recall, also, that some doubted if any considerable number of veterans would wear the buttons—pleasant because a very large number of veterans now are wearing their honorable discharge insignia and it is doing what was claimed for it.

It is setting the wearers apart from all others.
It is noticed with respect. It is an invitation to other discharged service men to ask questions and get acquainted. It is an excuse for many of us who did nothing in the war besides our ordinary civilian jobs to express the admiration we tried to project across the oceans by mental telepathy while the war was being fought.

Not everything since the end of the war has turned out as advertised. The honorable discharge insignia is coming up to expectations. It is helping former service men to know that they earned something that cannot be measured in money—the respect of those they served well.

News Behind the News

Truman Meets Some Success in Russian Dealings.
WASHINGTON, March 28.—The former hand of Mr. Truman has brought some success in first success in handling differences with Russia. It has wrought
"the graceful retreat" (congressmen privately call it that) of Russian troops from Iran, but not of Russia. Moscow could not stand facing the issue in UNO. Nor would she dare to bear the burden of responsibility for veto there. Instead she is promising again to withdraw her troops, say in six weeks, leaving behind some seeds of revolution which she may now well nurture to gain her point in the end, namely, control of that nation.

The atomic bomb tests which,
singularly, were to be held in about six weeks, have similarly been postponed until diplomatic affairs can quiet down—around July 1. The official excuse offered for the delay is not convincing. "True enough, from fifty to a hundred congressmen had indicated their intention of leaving for the test and Mr. Truman's press secretary has explained he did not wish congress weakened for so long a time as the trip would require. But the congressmen could have been kept here without postponing the tests.

Variety of Reasons
They could fly out and back without loss of much time. This rather obvious deduction has encouraged credence in the private, unofficial explanation that Mr.
Truman did not wish such a di-

LET'S look in on Frances Buss, one of the few women television directors. She is seated in the control room directing a show
—a job that might lightly be likened to playing "Kitchen on the Keys" cross-handed.

Frances is flanked on one side by an assistant director and an audio engineer; on the other side by a video engineer. Her microphone is connected to the head phones of two television operators (camera men) and to the floor manager who is coordinating all activities for a CBS televised dramatic show.

Television One takes long shots of all or part of a scene; Television Two takes close-ups of part of a scene. Their pictures are flashed on separate screens on the board before Frances. It's her job to direct the cameras where she wants them, watch the screens, choose instantaneously the shots she wants broadcast, cue them to the actor's speeches, cue the music and sound effects and get a smooth performance on the television screen.

Done With Buttons.
"Take One," she says to the video engineer. He presses a button and Television One goes on the air. "Take Two." He presses another button and Television Two is broadcast. After that "cross-handed playing" for half an hour
—"You're a nervous wreck," says Frances. "I don't come down to you for a couple of hours. I think in a few years several people will be doing what the director does now."

Frances started toward television from her birthplace, St.
Louis, via the little theater which came to New York, failed to land a job and was just about to start back home in 1941 to take a vacation course, when she got a vacation relief job as receptionist in CBS's television studio. She stayed, moving from one job to another until the company curtailed operations because of the war in

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO
It was Saturday, March 28, 1936.
Gov. Harold C. Hoffman of Trenton, N. J., called the court of pardons to convene the following Monday to consider a new clemency plea for Bruno Richard Hauptmann, kidnaper of the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A.
Lindbergh, who was scheduled to die in the electric chair on the following Tuesday night.

A special Big Four train carrying astronomy's 200-inch glass
"eye," the largest in the world,
reached Marion at 1:30 p. m., traveling approximately 20 miles an hour. The three-car freight train left Cleveland with the $6-000,000 telescope mirror at 7 a.
m. after making the run from Buffalo to Cleveland in a day.
The trip to Pasadena, Calif., the "eye's" destination, was expected to take another 12 days.

Elvin Jones of Caladonia won first place, James Kirby of St.
Mary Parochial High school placed second and Louise Schempf of Valdo third in the senior scholarship contest for Marion city and county public schools and St. Mary Parochial school, held at Harding High school.

Miss Mary Ann Young was hostess to the Sub Deb club at her home on Kensington place.

Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Thomas of 237 South Main street returned from a two weeks' trip in Florida.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
It was Sunday, March 28, 1926.
Stelmets with 201 was high scorer for the Marion Midway team in three games rolled in the American Bowling Congress at Toledo. Schuler was next with 2000. Other members of the Marion team were Ziesler, Kopp and McCall. The team scored 855, 923 and 931 in the three games.

Rededication services were opened at Emmanuel Baptist church with three meetings and were to be continued through Easter Sunday, April 4, with the pastor, Rev. Earl L. Holliday, in charge. The dedication was for additions built to the church edifice, originally constructed in 1916.

Miss Agnes Tice of Marion and Glenn M. Baird of Columbus were united in marriage at the bride's home on Neil avenue by Rev. Ralph R. Hutton.

Buckeye Aerie of Eagles indicated 75 candidates one of the largest classes on record here up to that time. The initiatory address was given by L. M. Layton, principal of the Springfield, O., High school.

Counterfeiting Drops Counterfeiters cheated the American public out of only $48,000 in 1942, compared with spoils of $771,000 per year between 1933 and 1936, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica. A counterfeit bill can often be detected by comparing it with a genuine bill of the same denomination, paying special attention to the quality of the portrait, which is unusually fine in a genuine bill.
Counterfeit coins usually feel greasy or slippery.

1942. Then she went to work for a commercial motion picture company, where she finally directed a picture. With that experience under her belt she returned to CBS when it resumed television operation in 1944 and was made an assistant director.

Complications.
She never will forget the first televised show she directed—a studio boxing show. The first match ended in a knock-out in the first round. And for five ghastly minutes (while the announcer ad-libbed) one contestant in the second match failed to appear. He was marooned in his dressing room! Couldn't find his trunks.

Dr. Butler's Warning
By Raymond Moley

FOR a good many years, Dr.
Nicholas Murray Butler fought against taking eyesight.
And for nearly 50 years, he assumed a double responsibility. He directed the affairs of a great university and he assumed leadership in public affairs. He fought hard for better international relations, despite the disappointments which came with two great wars. He never lost faith in the people's wish for peace.

Now, at 84, Dr. Butler is totally blind. But the fact that his insight lives on is shown by his statement on Iran. He makes the point that Britain enjoys large oil concessions in Persia, and that Russia is entitled peacefully to have a share. He "blatantly suggests that Russia should have free access to the Baltic and the Dardanelles. On the latter, he says, Russia should have a part under a treaty.

What is needed is a new deal all around, says Dr. Butler, in effect.

Irish Washerwomen
Now Use Mine Casings

By The Associated Press
ROSSLARE HARBOR, Ire.— Disunited sea mines, British and German—are being put to strange uses along the south coast of Eire, where during the war
hundreds of them drifted ashore.
Whoever reported a mine got the casing when the authorities had removed the explosive.

Now almost every other house along 60 miles of coast-line uses mines as water butts. In farm yards they have been converted into boilers for cattle food, chicken, coops and rabbit hutches.
Sometimes they are gaily painted and used to hold ornamental trees. In several instances they have become dog kennels and washing tubs.

The Once Over

Round-House, Sweet Round-House
THOSE DESIGNS for living in the world tomorrow keep coming. Every day we follow who must have studied architecture siding in Mardi Gras parades springs something newer and sweeter in housing.

The brass ring in this month's Carousel R with Blueprints goes to Kansas man who produced a round tumbelow.

It looks like a butter dish with ventilation arrangements, a super mousetrap with roof, derry hat with windows.

It is made of aluminum and is suspended cables from a steel shaft. The rooms, six of are cut in like slices in a pie. It is the ideal home for a six day bicyclist race who has married the wheel of a marathon trail and who raising a family of hysterical roller skaters.

It takes a heap of living to make a place home, as Edgar Guest said. And Edgar never lived in a home where the tenants had to pass three laps on themselves to determine where front door was.

A window runs all around the house. No matter where you sit, you get a view of the life in a house like this must make you feel a cross between a roulette ball, the needle in compass and breast of chicken under glass.

In such a home you are really a chess-man with ears and a cream puff with plumage troubles.

Viewed from a distance the place looks like a watermelon, with curtains over the wormholes.

In it there is the spirit of a Salvador Dali dream sequence, a night-club design, a nightmare and a pinwheel maker's lost weekend.

If you got a dizzy spell in this home you don't call the doctor, you call the architect.

Which is a mistake, as the architect was zipped in the first place than the tenant, but ever be.

We are ordering one for summer occupancy.
But we will shoot the first neighbor who beats into our living room and yells "The dollars for a spring!"

Cotton Corners
By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: The local wise men tell me we are going to go to war with Russia. What do you think about this?

I think it is going to turn out just that way unless we get some sense. But we are going to go to war with Russia if that is the only way we can think of. That's the way it always been done before. We fumbled our way into mess, then had another war. But war isn't solution to anything. It's just a horrible way
of burying politicians' mistakes.

I don't know anything about Russia. No one knows anything about Russia. The Russian government makes sure no one knows anything about Russia, except the Russian government.
Not even Russians know. That's the way it works in dictatorship. But what common sense I have tells me this much—that Russia has the problems every other country has and probably more. Russia took the worst beating in the war we have just finished. It lost the most men and the most wealth, and while it have been able to afford men it couldn't afford wealth because it didn't have any to spare.

My common sense tells me that the Russian government is having a devil of a time summing the shock, because there never was a great without a great political reaction. If anyone makes me sick it's the notion that Russia is strong and everybody else is suffering from vitamin deficiency. That's why the local wise men are sure there is going to be war. They think Russia is ready for it. That's the only way we can think of. That's the way it always been done before. We fumbled our way into
solution to anything. It's just a horrible way
of burying politicians' mistakes.

All I want to say is that people all over the world are sick of being killed, maimed, starved and terrified by war. They all want to be protected from it, including the people in the Soviet Union. Yet, all we are getting from the government is talk of more war. Personally, I think that what we need to do is throw out the heads instead—and I have a hunch this thought is occurring to a lot of people, here, in Russia and in Timbuctoo.

Every whisper of war, every dumb move that threatens to bring war, every rattle of the sword is a betrayal of humanity, not only here but everywhere. People do not want to die for fumbles of politicians. The Russians are at risk of war as we are. Don't think I am turning on you, but I am beginning to turn pale when highbrows tell me that all we have to look forward to is more of the same until everybody is dead. Great balls of fire, kiddo, that's as bad as the Hatfields and McCoys!

Regards to the family and how about coming up to see us real soon?

Hay Fever

How to prevent hay fever

From August and the beginning of September, the pollen from the ragweed, the most common cause of hay fever, is in the air. To be effective, preventive measures must be taken before the annual onslaught of the difficulty.

Hay fever is due to allergy or hypersensitivity. That is, persons who are allergic react, as a rule, to the pollen from some plant, particularly the ragweed. In hay fever, there are such things as watering of the eyes, sneezing and discomfort.

Hay fever victims should have been taught to determine to what substances they may be allergic. These tests are made by drawing extracts of various kinds of plants into the skin or by rubbing the extracts into scratches on the skin and noting whether or not a red swelling at the point of injection.

Hay fever attacks of hay fever, the usual method of treatment is by the use of the pollen extract. The pollen extract is gradually increasing in strength and is given by injections the year around.

Hay fever may start the year around or three or four months before the usual hay fever season, which starts about the middle of August and lasts through September.

Attempts to prevent the attack have also been made by giving the pollen extract by mouth. Dr. H. R. Z. Thibierge of New Orleans believes that the use of the pollen extract is helpful in giving the pollen extract by injection, particularly if the patient travels a great deal.

Dr. Thibierge thinks that this method of treatment cannot replace the injection method completely, because it is impossible to be certain how rapidly the extract will be absorbed or taken up in the body.

He treated 22 patients giving the pollen extract by mouth over a period of one to three years.

He used pills which were coated so that they would not dissolve in the stomach but only in the intestine. With this method of treatment, he was able to keep about one-sixth of the patients free from attacks of hay fever and to relieve the symptoms in about one-half. Three of the patients stated that the treatment made them worse.

Since it has been proved that pollen extract given by mouth is absorbed in the body and acts to make the patient less sensitive to pollen, many hay fever victims may find this new method of prevention helpful.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
R. S.: Will you please tell me something about conjunctivitis? Can it be cured and is it possible to lose your vision from it?

Answer: Conjunctivitis is caused by many types of infection. The treatment for the condition depends upon the kind of infection which is present. In most instances the condition can be cured. Unless the disorder is quite serious, it would not interfere with the vision.

H. R. Z.: Is it serious when a person finds blood and gravel in the urine?

Answer: Blood and gravel in the urine indicate that there is a tendency to kidney stone formation. Such a condition may be serious, depending upon how many stones are present and where they are located. An X-ray of the urinary tract would be advisable.

V. M. E.: Would the occasional use of alcoholic beverages be harmful to someone who has had cystitis?

Answer: Cystitis means inflammation of the bladder. Whether or not alcoholic beverages would be harmful to an individual who has had cystitis could only be determined by her physician after he has made an examination to determine her general physical state.
